

2010-2011 Academic Year

Outstanding Teaching Award

Professor's Name:

Submitter's Name

Student ID Number:

The Outstanding Teaching Award recipient has demonstrated excellence in teaching in the following ways:

- Knows the subject matter well and effectively teaches the material
- Has high expectations and helps the students to achieve them
- Is approachable and willing to help individual students
- Models the kind of behavior he or she desires in the students
- Provides opportunities for learning and growth to students
- Builds strong relationships with students and colleagues

To submit your nomination, write a brief explanation below of why you believe your chosen professor is worthy of the Outstanding Teaching Award. A committee of traditional and CPS students will determine the winner, so be sure to explain why your nominee outshines the rest!

Please return to Cindy Meyers by Friday, April 15, 2011